IDAHO'S TREASURE VALLEY

Fall in Love with Life in Idaho.

Idaho's Treasure Valley has become one of the most desirable places to live in the country. From wide open spaces and stunning mountain backdrops to a vibrant downtown core and countless family-friendly activities, this region truly has it all. Residents enjoy a unique balance of urban amenities and outdoor access — with hundreds of parks, rivers, and trails just minutes from city centers for hiking, biking, skiing, floating, and more.

The area maintains a strong community spirit and quality lifestyle that draws people from across the United States, particularly from higher-cost coastal markets looking for a more affordable alternative without sacrificing opportunities or culture.

Arts and culture play an important role as well, with museums, theaters, botanical gardens, and year round events adding depth and creativity to daily life. From established neighborhoods to fast growing communities across the Treasure Valley, it is easy to feel connected, welcomed, and at home from the very beginning.

A Superior Business Climate

The Boise Metro is one of the fastest-growing economic hubs in the Northwest, attracting companies across industries with its pro-business climate and lifestyle advantages.

- Highly Skilled Workforce

Fueled by Boise State University, College of Idaho, and a strong pipeline from regional tech and trade schools.

- Leading Employers

Micron Technology, St. Luke's Health System, Boise Cascade, Albertsons, Amazon.

- Growth Industries

- Technology and semiconductor manufacturing
- Outdoor recreation products
- Food production and agriculture innovation
- Healthcare and medical research
- Construction and building services

- Infrastructure and Long Term Investment

Significant public and private investment continues across transportation, utilities, and mixed use development. Ongoing expansion supports long term economic stability and positions the region to accommodate sustained growth across multiple sectors.

A Natural Training Ground

The Treasure Valley's location and amenities make it a prime environment for sports, outdoor recreation, and active lifestyles.

- Home to Boise State University athletics (famous blue turf and a national draw).
- Training base for Olympians in cycling, skiing, and track & field.
- Year-round outdoor access
Ski Bogus Basin in the morning, bike the Boise River Greenbelt by afternoon.

A Connected & Accessible Region

Boise offers a balance of convenience and connectivity that supports both business and lifestyle needs.

- Boise Airport (BOI) – just minutes from downtown, offering nonstop flights to major U.S. hubs. Ongoing expansions include terminal upgrades, security improvements, and new direct routes.
- Central Location – quick access to the Pacific Northwest and Mountain West regions.
- Quality of Life Advantage – shorter commutes (avg. 22 minutes), affordable living compared to coastal metros, and a reputation for safety and community.

Treasure Valley at a Glance

Welcome to the heart of Idaho's scenic beauty—The Greater Treasure Valley. This expansive region encompasses several cities, each with its own unique charm and character. At the core is Boise, the state's bustling capital, known for its energetic downtown, extensive park system, and a thriving arts scene. Surrounding Boise are the cities of Meridian, Nampa, and Caldwell, forming a metropolitan area with plentiful amenities, shopping, and dining options.

To the northeast, Eagle offers a more laid-back atmosphere with luxury homes, golf courses, and access to the Boise River, ideal for those seeking a quieter retreat within close proximity to urban conveniences. Just south of Boise, Kuna appeals to those looking for a small-town feel with easy access to the great outdoors, including the nearby Snake River birds of prey area.

Further west, Star and Middleton present a more rural lifestyle with opportunities for agriculture and spacious, scenic living. Each city within The Greater Treasure Valley is linked by efficient transportation routes, ensuring that whether you're traveling for work or leisure, you're never too far from your destination.

WHAT WE LOVE ABOUT BOISE

OUTDOOR RECREATION

The Treasure Valley is surrounded by natural beauty, offering abundant opportunities for outdoor activities. We love hiking in the foothills, exploring scenic trails, and taking advantage of nearby rivers for fishing, exploring along the greenbelt, and floating the river.

COMMUNITY CHARACTER

The Treasure Valley maintains a friendly and close-knit community atmosphere. Idahoans often appreciate the strong sense of community and the welcoming nature of their neighbors. You'll always find a friendly face.

CULTURAL EVENTS

Boise hosts a variety of cultural events, festivals, and local fairs throughout the year. These events provide opportunities for residents to come together, celebrate, and enjoy the vibrant local culture.

LOCAL FOOD SCENE

From farmers' markets to food truck parks to diverse dining options, the Treasure Valley is known for its thriving local food scene. Residents enjoy access to fresh, locally grown produce and a range of culinary experiences.

QUALITY OF LIFE

The Treasure Valley offers a high quality of life with a relatively low cost of living compared to some other parts of the country. This, coupled with a strong job market and good schools, makes it an attractive place for families.

BOISE'S URBAN AMENITIES

Boise, the capital city of Idaho located in the Treasure Valley, provides urban amenities without the congestion of larger cities. Residents appreciate the vibrant downtown, cultural institutions, and recreational opportunities Boise offers.

FOUR SEASONS

We enjoy experiencing all four seasons, from snowy winters, blooming springs, warm summers, and crisp autumns. Each season brings its own charm and a variety of outdoor activities, contributing to a well-rounded and enjoyable living experience.

PROXIMITY TO NATURE

The Treasure Valley is surrounded by mountains, forests, and rivers. We value the easy access to outdoor adventures, whether it's a weekend camping trip or a day exploring scenic landscapes.

SENSE OF SAFETY

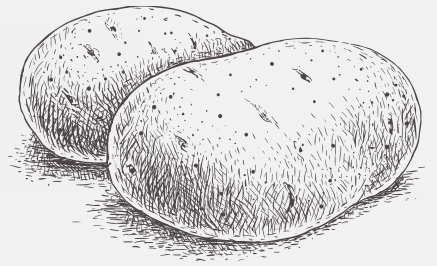

Many residents appreciate the overall sense of safety and security in the Treasure Valley. The area is known for its low crime rates and the feeling of being in a secure environment.

STRONG LOCAL ECONOMY

The area has experienced economic growth, and those living here appreciate the job opportunities and economic stability.

Beyond the Potato

TALK LIKE A LOCAL

Locals lovingly correct the common mispronunciation "BOY-zee" to "BOY-see," reflecting pride in Boise, the City of Trees. This nickname, from the French word for "wooded," highlights the area's lush, tree-lined beauty.

Pronunciations can be tricky: Ustick Road is "You-stick," Chinden Boulevard is "Chin-din" (from "Chinese garden," honoring early settlers), and Kuna is pronounced "Q-na."

COMMUNITY OF COURTESY

The Treasure Valley is characterized by its friendly and warm atmosphere, where manners, mutual respect, and kindness are deeply embedded in the community's culture. This welcoming nature is expressed through everyday interactions like smiles, eye contact, holding doors, and friendly conversations, reinforcing the Valley's reputation as being hospitable and congenial.

With growth comes a shared responsibility to preserve the environment by keeping cities clean, protecting wildlife, and safeguarding natural habitats to sustain Idaho's quality of life.

TATER KINGS

Idaho isn't just famous for potatoes; it's the U.S. champion, producing a whopping one-third of the nation's spuds. Talk about being a potato powerhouse!

TRANSIT TIPS

Driving culture is marked by courtesy and cooperation, evident by smooth merging and efficient roundabout use.

A car is recommended for Boise residents, especially outside the city, as Valley Regional Transit's public transport may not cover all travel needs, especially outside of Boise city limits.

ALL ABOUT ROUNDABOUTS

In Boise's roundabouts, yield to traffic already in the circle. When entering, choose the correct lane early: right lane for right turns or straight ahead, left lane for left turns or U-turns. The essentials:

Lane Choice: Select your lane before entering and stick to it throughout.

Yield: Yield to both pedestrians and oncoming traffic when entering and exiting the roundabout. Don't stop once inside; incoming traffic should yield to you.

Caution and Speed: Slow down for safety, staying alert for pedestrians, unexpected lane changes, and large or emergency vehicles.

ZIPPERING 101: A QUICK OVERVIEW

The zipper merge, used correctly, counters the issues of early merging at "lane closed ahead" signs, which can cause traffic jams and frustration. Using both lanes fully until the merge point, then alternating turns to merge, much like a zipper's teeth. This technique balances lane speeds, cuts traffic backup by up to 40%, and smooths out congestion at freeway interchanges, ensuring a fair and efficient flow for all lanes.

- Use both lanes until the merge point.
- Alternate turns merging for fairness and efficiency.
- Best used in heavy, slow-moving traffic.

OTHER WEATHER HIGHLIGHTS

True Four Seasons

Boise truly experiences all four seasons. Winters bring snow but are generally moderate. Summers are warm and dry, spring arrives quickly, and fall tends to be long and mild with crisp mornings and sunny afternoons.

Low Humidity Year Round

One of the most noticeable differences for newcomers is the low humidity. Summers are warm but rarely feel sticky, and winters are cold without the damp chill. This makes outdoor activities more comfortable throughout the year.

Outdoor Friendly Climate

Because extreme weather is relatively rare, residents enjoy year round access to outdoor activities. Hiking, biking, fishing, and river recreation are popular from spring through fall, while winter sports are easily accessible.

Shoulder Seasons Are a Highlight

Spring and fall are often considered the best times of year. Spring brings quick warming temperatures and blooming trees. Fall is typically dry, sunny, and mild, with colorful foliage and comfortable daytime highs.

RETIREMENT

Retiring in Idaho: Active Living Made Easy

The Treasure Valley is a retirement haven offering affordability, quality healthcare, outdoor recreation, and a welcoming community. With a cost of living below the national average, no tax on Social Security benefits, and accessible amenities like the Boise River Greenbelt and top-rated hospitals, retirees enjoy an active, fulfilling lifestyle. Mild winters, senior-focused housing options, and lively cultural events make Boise an ideal choice for a relaxed and engaging retirement.

IDAHO'S SMALL BUSINESS EDGE

Idaho continues to stand out as one of the nation's most business-friendly states. Low taxes, affordable overhead, and a strong sense of community make the Treasure Valley a natural place for entrepreneurs to put down roots.

Idaho saw over 31,000 new business applications in 2023, up 10% from the year before, with small firms making up about three-quarters of all employers. Startup growth stayed strong through 2024 and is projected to remain steady into 2026.

Support networks like the Idaho Small Business Development Center (SBDC), Trailhead Boise, and the Boise Metro Chamber connect new owners with resources and mentorship. Kiln Meridian remains a popular coworking hub for small teams and remote professionals, with a new Boise location opening in 2026 to meet growing demand for flexible workspace.

Idaho's accessible licensing process and affordable costs make the region one of the easiest and most rewarding places to start a business in the West.

MODERN WORKSPACES in the Treasure Valley

Co-working spaces provide shared professional environments with flexible options that include open work areas, dedicated desks, private offices, and reservable conference or board rooms. Most locations offer high-speed internet, shared amenities, and short-term commitments, making them well suited for remote professionals and entrepreneurs who want flexibility.

Kiln (Meridian & Boise)

Modern co-working spaces expanding in the area, with a Meridian location and a planned Boise opening in 2026.

Trailhead Boise

A long-established Boise workspace supporting entrepreneurs, startups, and small teams through flexible offices.

Boise Main Co-Working Space

A downtown option offering professional offices and meeting rooms for independent professionals and growing businesses.

The Harper Building (Boise)

A centrally located professional workspace featuring private offices, collaborative areas, and conference rooms.

Regus (Boise area)

Flexible office solutions offering shared workspaces, private offices, and meeting rooms at multiple local locations.

Major Employers in the Treasure Valley

Boise

Micron Technology: Global semiconductor manufacturer headquartered in Boise. Broke ground on a second fabrication plant in 2025, one of Idaho's largest private investments.

Exyte: Engineering and technology company supporting semiconductor manufacturing. Opened a Boise office in 2024, creating about 100 engineering jobs.

St. Luke's Health System: Regional healthcare network and top employer in the state.

HP Inc: Boise campus focused on printing and imaging technology. Invested in new 3D-printing and sustainability initiatives.

INSIDER TIPS

For a safe and enjoyable experience at Idaho's hot springs, keep these tips in mind:

1. Download maps ahead of time, as cell service is often unreliable in remote areas. Check weather and road conditions before heading out.
2. Wear sturdy sandals or water shoes for river crossings and to protect your feet from sharp or slippery rocks.
3. Respect the natural environment by cleaning up after yourself and packing out all trash.
4. Hot springs are popular, especially on weekends. If you're seeking solitude, visit early in the morning or on weekdays.
5. Dogs should not soak in the hot springs.
6. Bring essentials like a towel, water bottle, dry bag, and snacks.
7. Avoid bringing glass bottles, and skip using soap or shampoo—including biodegradable options—to help protect the delicate natural ecosystem.
8. Be aware that some hot springs are clothing-optional, so you may encounter nude bathers.

The Heart Of Idaho

Boise is Idaho's capital city with an easy mix of downtown life and quick access to the outdoors. The Boise River Greenbelt runs about 29 miles through the city, linking parks and neighborhoods for walking, biking, and weekend strolls. From local restaurants and shops to major employers like healthcare and tech, Boise stays busy without feeling overwhelming—especially with the foothills and Bogus Basin close enough for after-work trails and winter turns.

Boise's culinary scene caters to all tastes, from classic diners to international cuisine and health-conscious eateries. Its shopping options include malls, local boutiques, and unique retailers. For dog lovers, the city features pet-friendly parks, trails, and businesses.

Healthcare is a standout, with several top-rated hospitals and medical centers ensuring residents have access to quality care.

Families benefit from excellent educational opportunities, including highly regarded public and private schools, as well as higher education at Boise State University.

The local economy is robust, driven by industries such as technology, healthcare, and agriculture, contributing to low unemployment. Boise is also recognized as one of the safest cities in the nation, with a strong sense of community.

Cultural attractions include museums like the Idaho State Museum and the Discovery Center of Idaho, as well as theaters and performance venues. Public art and galleries enrich the city's cultural landscape, and annual events keep the community engaged.

Whether enjoying outdoor adventures, pursuing career opportunities, or raising a family, Boise combines natural beauty, excellent amenities, and a welcoming atmosphere, making it an exceptional place to call home.

Boise River Greenbelt

Life in the State Capital

Boise, established in 1863, serves as the capital of Idaho. The Idaho State Capitol, completed in 1920, is distinguished by its neoclassical architecture and prominent dome, symbolizing the state's political heritage. Visitors can explore this historic building through guided tours, which offer insights into Idaho's legislative processes and history.

Boise Airport (BOI)

Located southeast of downtown, is the region's primary gateway for commercial travel. Serving over 4.5 million passengers annually, it provides nonstop flights to 27 destinations across the United States, connecting the Treasure Valley to major cities and global hubs. With its efficient layout and close proximity to the city center, the airport is a convenient choice for both business and leisure travelers.

Gowen Field and Cargo Operations

Adjacent to Boise Airport, Gowen Field supports military and cargo operations. It is home to the Idaho Air National Guard's 124th Fighter Wing and plays a critical role in defense and logistics. The cargo facilities facilitate the movement of goods across the region, contributing to Idaho's economy and supply chains.

Freak Alley

An outdoor art space in downtown Boise, featuring a rotating display of murals and street art by local and international artists. It's a must-see destination for art lovers, with a constantly evolving collection.

Wineries and Breweries

Idaho's wine industry is thriving, with over 70 wineries now operating across the state, supported by more than 1,300 acres of vineyards. The Sunnyslope Wine Trail and Boise's Urban Wine District are popular destinations where you can explore a variety of locally produced wines. Idaho's unique climate, characterized by warm days and cool nights, along with its rich volcanic soil, makes it an ideal location for grape cultivation. The state's wine production has seen significant growth, with many of its wineries earning prestigious awards, reflecting the industry's expanding reputation.

Idaho is also home to over 50 craft breweries, many in the Garden City area, with new ones opening regularly. The state's robust production of barley and hops—key ingredients in beer—has made it a vital supplier for breweries nationwide. Whether you're enjoying a glass of wine or a pint of beer, there's plenty of opportunity to support local producers who contribute to Idaho's growing reputation in the beverage industry.

PLANNING AHEAD

- Create a detailed moving plan with timelines.
- Notify utility providers, post office, and relevant contacts about your move well in advance.

DECLUTTER AND ORGANIZE

- Start decluttering early; donate or sell items you don't need.
- Organize belongings by category for efficient packing.

PACKING ESSENTIALS

- Gather packing supplies: boxes, tape, bubble wrap, and labels.
- Pack a "first-night" box with essentials like toiletries, clothes, and important documents.

HIRE PROFESSIONAL MOVERS

- Research and hire reputable moving companies.
- Get quotes and schedule the move well in advance.

LOCAL SERVICES

- Find local utility providers for water, electric, gas, internet, etc.
- Research local schools, healthcare providers, and emergency services.

CHANGE OF ADDRESS

- Update your address with the post office, banks, DMV, and any relevant subscriptions.
- Ensure your new address is updated for online deliveries.

CHECKLISTS

- Use checklists for each stage of the move: pre-move, packing, moving day, and post-move.
- Keep track of important documents and moving paperwork.

ESSENTIALS ON MOVING DAY

- Pack a bag with essentials like snacks, water, and chargers.
- Have a moving-day toolkit with basic tools for any unexpected needs.

MOVING WITH PETS

- Arrange for pet care on moving day.
- Update pet tags and information with the new address.

UNPACKING STRATEGY

- Label boxes clearly to ease the unpacking process.
- Prioritize unpacking essentials for immediate use.

LOCAL ASSISTANCE

- Connect with 2-1-1 for local resources or relocation services for guidance.
- Seek recommendations for local contractors or services you may need, your licensed Realtor will have recommendations.

EXPLORE THE NEW NEIGHBORHOOD

- Familiarize yourself with the new neighborhood.
- Identify nearby amenities, grocery stores, and healthcare facilities.

SETTLING IN

- Attend local community events to meet neighbors.
- Join local social media groups and pages for insights and recommendations, such as Nextdoor and This Is Boise.

EMERGENCY PREPAREDNESS

- Know emergency evacuation routes and locations.
- Familiarize yourself with local emergency services.

RELAX AND ENJOY

- Take breaks during the move to avoid stress.
- Once settled, explore your new city and enjoy the experience.

Moving can be a challenging process, but with careful planning and these practical tips, your relocation to Idaho will be a smooth and positive experience.
